

Mr. Ajay Mittal

Ajay Mittal is a young entrepreneur and opportunity maker from Kolkata, India. He believes it's our responsibility to work towards improving the state of the world and provide equal opportunities for all human beings to live a life unleashing their true potential. While pursuing his graduation he joined Leo Club and AIESEC, the world largest youth run organization which brought major learning and awareness on global issues. In 2012 he led the expansion of student sector of AIESEC as Vice President of the city chapter and started his first venture into transit advertisement. Ajay is Director of Project Life Force a Non Profit organization working on voluntary blood donation in the city of Kolkata, It is a 100% volunteer run organization with 200+ volunteers, organized 100+ camps, facilitated over 22,000 units of blood, 24X7 blood helpline, pioneer in Single Donor Platelets donation process. He is also on the Governing board of HIVE India, a Non-profit working with the local police to run a unique emergency response unit that reaches out to APAROS (Any Person at risk on streets) of Kolkata, an organization that forms a safety net weaving together all stakeholders from the administration and other NGOs on an average rescues and rehabilitate close to 1000 lives every year. Ajay is a Global Shaper at World Economic Forum where he launched an impactful project for city hub to promote Good Samaritan culture in the city by conducting Basic Life Saving skills camp in educational institutes, corporates and housing apartments to prepare people for medical emergencies. He was recognized among the top entrepreneurs for his new venture mera workshop for a competition Egiye Bangla organized by the Government West Bengal and IIM Calcutta.

Mr. Akshay Gunteti

Akshay Gunteti is a traveller, an Entrepreneur and a Climate Change leader. He embarked on the journey to meet entrepreneurs across India which is known as 'Indian Start Up Tour'. The main objective of the tour is to understand the basic challenges faced by the entrepreneurs and to reduce the failure rate of startups in India. He also spent much of his time at Incubators, Accelerators and Research Centers to better understand the startup Ecosystem and its challenges. Till now he has covered 25 cities in a span of 12 months traveling across 25000 km in India. In his journey he helped more than 100+ startups in rural and urban areas in every possible ways such as financial, mentoring and networking with the various stakeholders in the 'Indian Startup Tour Phase 1'. In his Phase 2, he aims to cover 40 more cities in the Northern and North Eastern parts of the country. Akshay has himself endeavoured into three major startups of his own. One of which is Startupp, a location based networking platform for the entrepreneur community to find like-minded individuals and engage with incubators, accelerators, investors and various start up initiatives. During his journey he met few tribal communities in Kerala where they are into making Eco-friendly handmade clay based jewellery. Stay Travel is an easy pocket, laid back business friendly co-working space with accommodation at remote places near Hill Stations, River Sides and Beaches in order to promote social tourism. As part of his commitment towards climate change, he has been selected from India to go to Antarctica next year to better understand Global Warming. He is now on a mission to make more Climate Change Leaders to work towards protecting the Environment. He is also a public speaker and has given talks in more than 25+ Colleges, Universities and Conference about his journey, entrepreneurship, travel and climate change.

Mr. Amit Garg

Amit is on a journey to build a culture of performance excellence in Indian Education System. For him, every student has the right to dream about their future as per their inherent abilities and that it is the collective responsibility of the community to fulfil this dream. He sees the Indian Education System suffering from a mind-set of mediocrity and strives to bring a change from its current "Attitude of Chalega" to "Attitude of Excellence"! Drawing like-minded professionals from the Industry & Academia, he is spearheading this core shift by setting up Institutional Excellence Forum.

The forum is focused on making India a “Preferred Destination” for Higher Education by developing Excellence Attitude & by making it a Better-Informed Career Hub. Amit has also been conferred with “Karamveer Bronze Chakra” at the “Rex Karmaveer Global Fellowship” (RKGf) awards for Social Justice and Citizen Action.

Ms. Anandana Kapur

Anandana Kapur has continued to dedicate herself to the task of creating social change through storytelling in film and training spaces. She has conducted gender and cinema workshops for underprivileged youth along with WISCOMP which is under the aegis of HH Dalai Lama. She also conceptualised, developed and coordinated a flagship course on Media and Translation for the NGO Katha by way of skills development and critical thinking among youth in Delhi. The co-creation of CINEMAD India with her colleges Jayakrishna and Subhash has seen the formation of a film based organisation that documents and supports initiatives of young women and men supported by NGOs and entrepreneurship programmes in India and abroad. She has also received the Shastri Indo Canadian Institute fellowship for developing project "Baatchet".

Ms. Anita Babu

Anita Babu is an ardent dancer. In her first attempt on the topic of Water Conservation titled NADI NARAYANI which highlighted the issue of protecting our water bodies. So far they have performed this item at over 30 occasions at various festivals and functions across India, She was nominated and awarded the WOMEN LEADERSHIP ACHIEVEMENT AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN ARTS & CULTURE from the World Women Leadership Congress in 2016 for her work in the field of Odissi and using it as a medium to highlight social issue. Her next attempt was in 2015 was on the topic of harnessing the power of SUN as a source of energy. The title was SURYA TRISHNA. Her latest attempt has been in 2016 which is on the topic of Human Trafficking. The title of this production is 'AGNIKANYA - We Will Awaken' reflecting the life and struggle of millions Indian women who fight against a sea of social oppression. The dance depicts the struggle of the protagonist to achieve her dreams and aspirations despite all hindrances.

Mr. Binayak Dewan

Binayak Dewan heads the NGO -Socio Educational Welfare Association (SEWA), in Dibrugarh, Assam. SEWA is working for the socio economic development of the tea communities residing in the Tea Estates. Binayak has been instrumental in implementing SEWA's mission of uplifting the socio and economical status of the tea communities, with his core group of staff, by successfully implementing its various projects. They have provided scholarships to 1300 students from the tea community for higher education. 50 community members were trained on making clean cook stoves which is fuel efficient and smokeless and 744 households were provided with clean cook stove at a subsidised rate. 63 stoves were distributed free to the severely flood affected households in Dibrugarh.600 households were provided technical and financial training out of which in the first phase 55 households were provided with grants to purchase chicks, feed and construct chicken coop as a means to increase income.8 Self-help groups (all females) were formed and in the first phase two SHG's have been provided grants to start a small candle making unit.50 youths who were school drop outs have been identified and placed in various vocational institutes to empower them with skills to earn a better living.

Ms. Dolly Singh

Dolly Singh is the founder of India's largest standalone poetry festival - Delhi Poetry Festival. It gives people of Delhi an opportunity to come face to face with eminent poets, writers, performers and academicians. Determined to promote poetry from the grass root level, she created a platform NewLeaf Minds, for school children. They provide them opportunity to get published, a platform to showcase poetry writing talent, poetry writing workshops to hone their skills and contests to keep them on their toes. So far she has published and edited four anthologies by children, for children:

Fledglings, My Little Verse, A Pocketful of Sunshine and Nature's Jamboree

They have recently launched Indian Poetry League (IPL) that will engage over 2000 schools and over 300 colleges from Delhi NCR in a three-level poetry contest. IPL is first of its kind in India and it promises to bring in a poetry revolution in Delhi, to begin with. Currently, she is working on her poetry book and another on the works of famous lyricist Irshad Kamil. Besides, being a poet and editor, she also wears the hat of a fashion designer and has a design line by the name of Final Impressions by Dolly Singh.

Mr. Gaurav Mittal

Gaurav Mittal, CEO & MD of ITCONS e-Solutions Pvt. Ltd., Karmaveer Chakra Awardee of year 2014 has done a wonderful/ marvellous job creating employment for thousands of fresh graduates passing from college. He had come up with a brilliant idea of hiring the resources in their final semester of graduation and imparting industry specific skills to them as per company current and projected requirements so that they are productive from day one. Today ITCONS employs more than 2600+ such graduates who were hired as fresh graduates from various colleges across India and today they are highly skilled productive resources on various technologies. Besides being CEO & MD of IT Organization, Gauravv Mittal is the world famous celebrity Astro-numerologist popularly known as MahhaGuru, who has a great hold over occult sciences; among these are Numerology, Astronomy, Astrology, color & gems therapy, Vastu, Rudraksha Therapy, Prasanavali, Ayurveda mixed with Astrology, Reiki, Vedic Mantra, Tantra Science etc. Before Astro/ Numerology enlightenment, MahhaGuru – Gauravv Mittal did his Masters in Finance with International Marketing and Bachelors in Electricals from premier B Tech institute. MahhaGuru is The Founder of ITCONS e-Solution Private Limited, which is approx. 50 crore IT Staffing and consulting company.

Ms. Geeta Sahai

Geeta Sahai is a communicator, media professional, rather campaigner, a writer and a documentary filmmaker. After been associated with various well-known TV channels, radio and print magazines for nearly three decades - where she passionately launched a few campaigns in the field of Mental Health, Gender and on Special Children, she started her own foundation in 2015 - SWAYAM FOUNDATION. Her Foundation focuses on gender and mental health issues and creating awareness through art and culture. She feels that mental health issues are still ostracised from the 'drawing room' discussions. It is kept under the carpet. Besides stigma been attached to it, masses generally do not understand the gravity of mental health issues. Families and friends hardly understand and care about old people who develop signs of dementia and Alzheimer's. Through her foundation, she hopes to launch a campaign - publishing & digital campaign to sensitise younger generation about Alzheimer's. She feels that it is very vital as India is the third largest country to be afflicted by it after China and America and the onus of being a sensitive caretaker and letting the Alzheimer's patient live with dignity till his/her last breath, rests on the younger people. "Awareness has to be created," she strongly feels. Geeta Sahai helps Alzheimer's Societies. She has invited families and friends to share their untold stories about battling with it, their lives, struggles, guilt and perhaps liberation from it, taking into consideration action vis-a-vis intention. She plans to publish them in a book form and initiate self-help groups, support groups in other parts of India, too. She is charting out modalities for digital, video-audio and publishing campaign.

Mr. Jatin Kataria

Jatin Kataria has created vibrant startup ecosystem in Saurashtra region beyond tier I cities and brought/ started many new platforms and opportunities like Founders dating, Founders meet, 1-1/peer-peer/ group mentorship, Screwing your start-ups (Realistic growth platform for startups), ID, IBTD, IMD, junCkathon (Upscaling from junCk), Vibrant Saurashtra (startup opportunities), etc. They are ready to bring platforms like “startup weekends, iREX, TEDx, Crowdfunding, Smart Failures, Maker fest, Hackathon, startup concLive etc beyond tier I cities.” He started 1st ever CoWorking Space of Saurashtra-Kutch region which is running and making lot of different in startup ecosystem locally for 1 year. He is advising & mentoring many startups ranging from idea to growth stage, startup enablers and investors. He is also into screening committee under nodal institutes for startup India scheme of government. He has organised 80+ meaningful programs locally benefiting 7000+ people directly for free. Till now, he shared his experience & expertise with 80,000+ people changing lives of 1000s of people and also empowering elders technologically. Open source peer to peer mentorship platform, GrowR, expanded beyond 50+ countries. He is writing 2 books i.e. “Does world really understand youth” & “Innovation in Corruption”

Ms. Jyoti Dhawale

For Jyoti, HIV activism is her passion. Through the medium of social media, Jyoti has reached over many fans and followers, touching lives, educating them regarding HIV and breaking the myth. This further led her to the recognition of being an Ambassador for Beydaar (Pakistan) and Community Advisory Board for The Well Project (USA). Not only that, she blog for The Well Project’s sister concern A Girl Like Me, sharing her HIV journey – which was ranked as the fourth most read blog in the year 2014 - 2015. Her dream and vision “By showing my face, wherever I go, I want to be a living, walking, talking encyclopaedia as a Long Term Survivor of HIV’ with No Shame. She is confidently flawed and confidently positive. She may be suffering from anything, but overall, she is a human being first, struggling to live, striving to be loved and surviving to lead the best of whatever life I have got”. Make love not hate. Show empathy, not sympathy. Let there be love and peace in this world, free from stigma and discrimination. Be human. Preach humanity.....Until...There is a Cure is her Moto.

Ms. Madhureeta Anand

Madhureeta Anand is an independent filmmaker. Extremely prolific, she has directed two feature films, written five feature films, directed many documentary films and series, spanning an array of genres. Many of her films have won national and international awards. She also writes for various websites and magazines and has been featured in various books and other publications. She is an activist for women’s rights and rights of other minorities. She has consistently used her films and influences to support the causes of ending violence against women and children. She has consistently used her influence and films to advocate causes related to gender, sexuality and child rights. Her film Kajarya collaborated with 21 NGOs in India and abroad including Eve Ensler’s - One Billion Rising.

The film has become a tool for activism and to provoke discussion. She has set up a project in East Delhi's Mandaveli area with SMS - an NGO working in the area of gender. She has launched with ActionAid India - "Two Way Street" an initiative to catalyze media for social change. Two Way Street's key goals are to facilitate accurate representation of communities, social causes and issues through the media. And act as an advisory body to provide non-binding recommendations to stakeholders engaged with media. Madhureeta founded and is the festival director of the only Digital Film Festival in the country; the 0110 Digital Film Festival. The festival, started as collaboration with the British Council, Fame Cinemas and PVR Pictures, has well known filmmakers and actors on its jury. In 2007, she directed, produced and wrote 'Laying Janaki to Rest', a documentary film on Sita the Goddess; 'The Magic Tent', which she co-wrote and produced. In 2006, she was awarded the Silver Conch at the Mumbai International Film Festival, for her film 'Walking on a Moonbeam'. Her documentary 'Education – A reality or a myth' was nominated at the Zanzibar International Film Festival in 2002. Her film titled 'Sin' was nominated in the Short Film section at The Damah Film Festival at Seattle (USA) in October 2002.

Ms. Maitreyi Nandy

Maitreyi Nandya, a freelance artist, born and brought up in a cultural environment in Kolkata, India. She studied BVA from Rabindra Bharati University. Tagore songs are her obsession. For more than 25 years she has been in creative field by passion and profession. She has participated in many national & international exhibitions & bestowed with couple of prestigious awards including National level awards. For her art & life are alike, both are simple yet both are complicated. Her conscious & subconscious mind reflects in her works. Being a creative person she has got very deep & keen interests to work with children & Women, especially the deprived ones. She has been working with some NGO's like Literacy India, Casp Plan, and Empowerment India etc. as a creative partner for the last 15 years. Art for her is the manifestation of our society, its reality, culture, diversity. Her art will contribute in bringing about a positive change in society-a change in the way people view art, a change in people's attitude towards social responsibility & a change in the block of our future- "India's children" because she thinks art has the power to move people profoundly, to empower our society. Her art stimulates the intellect besides being a delight to the eyes, the eternal quest continues this way. Her paintings have been a part of various public & private collections both in India & Abroad.

Mr. Manish Jaiswal

Manish Jaiswal is a student of BA III year. He loves the words that say "don't leave a better world for the children rather leave better children for the world". With educated children we can preserve our beautiful earth. His work is dedicated for children of Indian village with vision for making Indian villages totally literate. In March 2015 he registered organization named i-kiran foundation (trust) slogan "combining Indian rays together" with the help of few professionals who is now serving as board member Organization's work is concentrated in the field of education and community development which is an area of greatest interest in today's society. They work for the upliftment of the village children by helping them to attain self -sustainability. They bring everything possible to give quality education to village children. Many of the children they assist are orphans or children living in poverty by enhancing the quality of village children in need, well as their respective families they actively help them to gain access to education. They also promote primary education and gender equality in village area. They are further planning to give beautiful direction to migrants, street, orphans and disabled village children by breaking their chains of poverty in three steps. Firstly preferred education is a child right secondly building confidence so that they make their own destiny and last but not least by opening space for livelihood by creating employment opportunities for them.

Ms. Nancy Katyal

Nancy Katyal is the founder of Lead Image Consultant & Soft Skills Coach at 'The Perfect YOU' – a trusted organization to make the colleagues look the part through the words they speak, the clothes they wear, body language and etiquette. Through her training programs, Nancy has been a guide to many esteemed corporate offices, Fortune 500 companies, colleges/ schools, SME's, NGO's and made a difference in their life. Nancy is also a storyteller and has facilitated some very effective team events, engagement campaigns, needs evaluation sessions and workshops. Her ideas have inspired her to put in endless number of hours into facilitating learning sessions. In her learning sessions – she focuses around broadening the potential and honest self-expression for her audience to use their own experience and imagination to discover. Her work has cut the doubt and inspired many minds by removing the restrictive thoughts and prejudices in them.

Her community workshop campaign – 'Making the good people stand up' for the economically less privileged people was widely appreciated in the Pune Community. Her work has grabbed a wealth of praise and media attention. Nancy is a LIMCA Book of Record Holder for a unique workshop that she led to action along with 11 consultants. Her views and articles have been featured in The Times of India, The New Indian Express, Pune Mirror, Sakal times & magazines e.g. Good housekeeping, Perfect Woman, fiction India magazine etc. She also appeared on Radio sharing her views on Image and people building tips. Nancy was also featured in the list of Elite Image consultants in India.

Ms. Nilanjana Das

When the passion and desire of an aspiring social entrepreneur unites with the dire needs of a few rural women to attain financial and social security, an organization, a movement – ACT is born. ACT (Action Center For Transformation) justifies its name by strongly believing in action oriented approach and transforming the lives of women. ACT advocates women's empowerment as a sustainable solution. ACT's endeavor is to make the women financially independent and in that process develops their innate strength to take decisions and responsibilities, providing them the right motivation and right atmosphere all along the way. Starting from one dark corner with two women and then reaching out to more than three hundred women providing skill development trainings and supporting them to generate an income on a sustainable manner. The efforts are ongoing to identify, train, promote and develop a chain of rural women upcyclers across the zone which helps to generate an income and create a ripple effect bringing changes in their lives. The innovative outcome as the ACT PAPER WINGS - a brand of ecofriendly handicrafts made with love and conviction is a personification of creativity that our women force is showcasing it to the world. They have met the challenges of beautifying waste paper into hundred forms of utility. ACT along with the team of strong rural women sends a message of recycling paper and reducing the carbon footprint, hence conserving the environment and developing an eco conscious society.

Mr. Pawan Verma

Pawan Verma is a Professional Speaker, Author, Publisher and Management Consultant. A senior management professional from India's insurance sector, he has worked for some of the large corporates in both the public and private sector space and handled top management responsibilities. He has also worked as Director on the Boards of a few leading companies in the financial services space. Professionally, Mr. Verma is associated with some of the leading global research forums, consulting platforms, speaker bureaus and humanitarian organizations. He has been a regular speaker at some of the national forums and international conferences. He has authored a few books and is a regular publisher of books, including Kindle e-books, print & audio books on platforms, like Amazon, Create Space, Audible, etc. Mr. Verma is a dedicated Rotarian and is the President-Elect of the Rotary Club of Millennium City, Navi Mumbai, for the year 2017-18. He is known for his relentless pursuit of innovative ideas and alternative actions for social transformation. This REX Karmaveer Silver Chakra is being awarded to Mr. Pawan Verma in recognition of his continued thought leadership and sustained pursuit of alternative action to serve the humanity and bring about a positive transformation in the society that we live in.

Mr. Pradeep Mohapatra

Pradeep Mohapatra, a development catalyst with 28 years of experience in managing human relationships, environmental and development initiatives especially on community resilience, have exposed to local & regional NGOs, International NGOs like CARE-India, CYSD - Plan, RGVN, CPSW, with government and PSU from State and government of India. He has shouldered responsibility in undertaking massive livelihoods-restoration from super-cyclo-1999 onwards. He is spearheading UDYAMA, as founder, undertaking citizen-action on DRR, END-WATER-POVERTY-campaign, Deepening-Governance & Capitalizing-Mainstream resources-impact-towards livelihoods & Community-Disaster-Resilient-process & Climate Justice, human rights along with life-skill-building and demonstrating sustainable consumption and production with rejuvenating rich social & ecological capital. He is a team-player working in tough & challenging-conditions & managing-major conflicts are my strength, undertake Next-Development-Challenges. Sometimes he undertakes action-research and evaluations. As passion he is working with community-directly to change-culture of self-resilience and negotiations. With his learning ability he has managed and engaged community resilience process linking with grass.

Mr. Pranav Dwivedi

Pranav Dwivedi is Professional Political Campaign Strategist, Social Activist, Digital Media Expert and a Young Policy Analyst. He is the Founder of Rayons-Enlightening Humanity Society-a social organization working on youth policy and advocacy & Co-founder of Diligence Group, an IT company that provides digital solutions to National and International clients. Pranav works on several issues related to Environment, preservation of water and natural resources, poverty alleviation, electoral reforms, corruption, child rights, animal rights, gender rights, gender crimes, environment, cyber security, etc. As a missionary Social Entrepreneur, initiated fundraising campaigns and awareness generating social movements, and these movements have been significant in changing the overall attitude towards philanthropy and social justice. In 2013, Pranav Filed a PIL against the Illigan Solid waste management plant of Bareilly in National Green Tribunal. Pranav has been profiled by the United Nation Institution for his outstanding work on Rayons Society and Stop Acid Attacks. He has also inspired stories in Lokmarg, Youth times and HaritKhabar Magazines. Pranav serves on the board of a few organisations like Vision Ruhailkhand, Stop Acid Attacks, Mercy For all, The United Souls, Poetry Society, I-Tech Club, India Against Corruption (Western UP), Akhil Bhartvarshiya Brahman Mahasabha etc. He is also nominated as a Fellow in My Parliament Fellowship 2015 for his Policy making and analysis Skills.He served as a “Minister of Environment” during the Monsoon session 2016.Currently Pranav is working with Political-Edge, as a Political Campaign Strategist. .

Mr. Pranav Sharma

Mr. Pranav Sharma, an engineer by education, is both a researcher and student of astrophysics, and a litterateur of Urdu, Hindi and English writings. Apart from his major involvements in the study of black hole binaries, multiple black hole systems and their gravitational interpretations he is also a poet of varied tastes and genres. Starting at an age of 14, he got involved in several social, scientific and cultural projects which led him to formulate Yash Pal Center for Science & Technology for promotion and motivation of basic sciences by enhancing the interaction between the top stockholders and the basic learner and inducing a thought processes that breaks the disciplinary boundaries thus encouraging creative freedom and innovative research, co-founding Agra Book Club and now started the Agra Poetry Society. He has also volunteered and initiated many social education ventures for Right to Information Act, Environment Education, Interlinking of communities for tourism enhancement in Agra, Yamuna Action Plan-II, Gangajal Project etc. He majorly contributed in popularization and communication of sciences by conducting major workshops, lecture series and exhibition reaching to almost 100,000 people in past 7 years. Starting with Romancing with the Stars, a series of twenty five sky watching and astronomy workshops followed by Bramhanaad which is a series of seminars, symposiums and exhibitions tracing the universe form its primeval sound in association with ESO and CERN. God's Paintbrush, an exhibition on the wonders of the universe in association with European Southern Observatory (2012, 2013, 2014) was quite a hit, attracting around 25,000 students in 2014. He has been conducting Wittgenstein Lectures- a lecture series on logic and philosophy of sciences for past 5 years. He is a key figure in dissolving boundaries between disciplines and creating a common learning platform and support ecosystem for students in Astronomy and training of community leaders in astronomy education. His major involvements include Winter School on Astronomy and Billion Stars Campaign.

Ms. Rachna Gulati

Ms. Rachna Gulati, the Founder and Director of Sai Amartya Tourism Pvt. Ltd., has launched a startup in an unfamiliar industry. Limitation of the industry knowledge didn't prevent her from putting her own ideas that could transform and improve the whole industry. She acknowledged that she had a lot to learn which she did by simply asking for the advice, and by hiring team with the right skillset. She is set out to change the way religious tourism is managed. She has made sure that it isn't just an empty promise and by knowing the downsides of the old ways of doing things, she is determined to change it. Her attitude is a prerequisite for true innovation in an unfamiliar industry and has made it possible with the right approach. She helps the pilgrims focus on the basic purpose, the worship of the divine, by well organizing the holy-tour from prologue to epilogue with a clear description through information about the religious places and providing the online booking platform to book the tour on the same website. The company savours the solitude in religious tourism fragment, collaborating the descriptions, route maps, and images of 600+ sacred destinations as well as some of the exclusive and unexplored divine spaces, all on the same portal. Where the industry is still trying to figure out whether the traditional travel agents still play a role in the age of Online Travel Agencies and E-Commerce, her organization provides the travel enthusiasts with offline and online booking and payment facilities along with online/offline customizable travel packages, regular customer support and a helpdesk to stay connected throughout the religious journey.

Mr. Rahul Prasad

Rahul Prasad is a 24 Years old student of St. Joseph's College, Bangalore and is a social activist working on the fields of child welfare and child abuse eradication across country through a self founded platform; Juvenile Care Charitable Trust. He started Juvenile Care as a platform for himself and other college students to come forwards and work for child rights and child abuse eradication. From past 6 years, he has not only given a platform to over 18,000 volunteers across country to come forwards and work for child welfare but has also evolved himself to be a motivational speaker and an inspirational leader. Presently Juvenile care operates in Bangalore, VIT University, Vellore, Jaipur, New Delhi and Pune, Hubli and Kolkata. The volunteers across India are comprising mainly of college students and working professionals. He has also published a motivational handbook - Youth, From Bed to Ground and is on the way to publish his second motivational book this season. Juvenile Care undertakes social activities such as Educational workshops in slums and villages, medical and sanitation awareness workshops in slums, Awareness drives in urban areas and delivering free education to rescued child labourers. His main aim has been to encourage the youth across nation and motivate them to join hands and give back the society by improving the lives of its children. In the month of September 2015, he adopted a village in Karnataka and is trying to convert this village into a smart village by introducing better education, employment and energy resources. Already a primary health centre and a cottage industry has been established in the village keeping in mind the sanitation and employment issues of rural India.

Ms. Roshani Shenazz Nadirshah

Roshani is a dynamic person with 23 years in media and films, where she worked for some of the biggest names in TV and the Indian Film Industry was interrupted by an unfortunate prolonged illness compounded by sheer medical negligence during 2005-2006, which got her temporarily immobilized waist downwards. Financially broke and living with her then 85 years old Father, she later sold her home to repay debts. What stayed with her were implicit faith, fortitude, courage and determination to rise above it all. Interactions with two faith healers during her seeming illness and later an Angel book from a friend and the Charles Virtue Angel workshop in 2010, made Roshani more cognizant of the intervention of these powerful beings in human lives. Trusting her intuition despite financial obstacles, she quit a dream job to embark on her spiritual journey to enthuse people unveil their own divine potential and recognize the same in others. Transformation followed and still continues with Roshani inspiring many lives across the Globe. Roshani is also the Founder of Meher Roshani Foundation, Mumbai. She has served as a Sr. Faculty – Producing, and is affiliated with The Whistling Woods International, the premium world acclaimed Film School in Mumbai, India. She is also affiliated with Institutions like; The Thadomal Shahani Centre for Management, and conducts seminars for the Institutions under the HSNC Board, The Rotary Club (City Chapters). Now through her Workshops on Empowerment, Inspirational/Transformational Leadership and Practical Spirituality and Potential Tapping Mindfulness for Individuals, Corporate and Institutions, she endeavors to equip each individual with awareness and ‘elevated consciousness’ living that shall help them to recognize and unleash their highest potential and shine their Light upon the world to serve as ‘Universal Citizens.’

Mr. Sandeep Rawat

Sandeep Rawat is a Delhi based theatre practitioner and the founder/ director of Samarth theatre group that aims to provide platform to the visually challenged students for showcasing their capabilities through the medium of theatre. In the last two years, he has majorly written and directed two plays “Bachpan kuch kehtai” and “Tagore’s women”. Both the plays were written on the two very important issues of the present times. Bachpan kuch kehtai puts questions on the kind of parenting done in our society where as Tagore’s Women addresses the issues of women’s self identity and liberation. Mr. Rawat has also run a programme with the name of “Rangmanch Ki Khidaki” through which his theatre group conducts theatre and storytelling workshops in various NGO's across Delhi-NCR. Hence, giving the under-privileged children residing there, opportunities to learn theatre and showcase their talent on public platforms.

Mr. Sourabh Kaushal

Sourabh Kaushal received prestigious Rajeev Circle Young Entrepreneur Fellowship in United States of America. In addition, as a part of his fellowship, he also interacted with lots of innovators, investors and mentors in Silicon Valley. He also attended TiESilicon Valley, visited Stanford University and Interacted with NASA Scientists. Moreover, he also become the first Indian to proposed new solution clean space junk from space and got Limca Book of Records for the same. He also delivered a talk in TEDx as well as many universities and conferences. After returning back from US he along with his colleagues started education startup (first startup of district, Yamuna Nagar) in India with a vision to empower and skill individual so that anyone can learn, engage, experiment, build, prototype and Invent. His mission is ONE STUDENT ONE INNOVATION and wants to skill and empower 1 million students in coming year. He already interacted with 15000 school students in India and associated with many schools like Army Public School, West Academy, St. Anselm, VLM and many other. He is also working hard to set up labs in rural areas in North India so that students can start doing innovation and creative. He believes that the 2030 deadline for achieving sustainable development goals will be possible only if India introduce fundamental changes in the education sector and he is working on same track.

Ms. Shabia Walia

Shabia Walia, a media professional who wanted to give back to society in her own small way. Shabia has a lot of goodwill in her professional field having been in it for the last 24 years and she often wondered how she could use this goodwill for the larger benefit of the underprivileged. In February 2015, the eureka moment happened and Shabia formed a group of 70 people whom she knew and started 'The Bluebells Community'. The members call themselves messengers of help. The aim is to spread smiles amongst the underprivileged and help those who reach out to them in any way. They have raised almost 20 lakhs for Saba from Karachi who is suffering from Wilson's disease through the campaign #SaveSaba. The campaign became a nationwide movement where Shabia's appeal of 'No Borders, Only Love' got much support and encouragement on both sides of the border. The campaign was propagated by all media and Saba became a darling of the nation with contributions flowing in from india, Dubai, Pakistan and New Jersey. Secondly, they adopted Balgram, an orphanage in Beed housing 45 kids and got a well dug there to sort out their water scarcity problems by raising 2.5 lakhs. They also supply monthly groceries to our Beed children every month amounting to almost 45000/. They support 'Team spreading smiles' whenever and wherever we can in helping out 13 orphanages in Mumbai. They support and lend money to different causes on Milaap. From funding a sewing machine to a lady in Orissa, to raising funds for a 3 year old kid suffering from leukaemia to lending funds for kids education to helping women to build a toilet, we step in whenever we can. They support Dreamz Home, an orphanage in Mumbai which looks after the old and the aged. 'The Bluebells Community' efforts have been widely covered by the media from time to time.

Ms. Shruti Nagar Dave

Shruti Nagar Dave, 24 years old visionary is Founder of a TRUST, The Should Be Education, India. She is recognized in diverse roles such as Philanthropist, Educationist, Life Skills/ Early childhood/primary years' expert, Instructional designer, Master Trainer and certified Innovative educator with Microsoft Education. She has counselled women and children across globe in value education, "Mind and heart Spa" "How to be better at creativity in life- problem solving". She takes session through Microsoft education to reach people across globe as she believes that positivity is contagious, rather than working to change minds, we touch souls to change their perceived thought. She works with diverse sectors in reaching out to as many women and children she can. She is an early childhood and primary years' education expert and contributes through her innovative workshops, seminars, digital media, telephonic conference calls and doing a bit to see big change in the world. She works closely with educators and young children, parent both in India in this project to empower their life and support them in the pathway to create their vision and achieve it. She was privileged to organize first iRex Education Gurgaon chapter in Gurgaon for 256 people in awareness drive for "school system and quality education". She has counselled 2000+ women 1 year for "Mind and heart Spa" "How to be better at creativity in life- problem solving and Childology concept for parents was also launched this year to look at parenting from child's standpoint. She is now on her pathway to implement her GuruSkul to serve "Education for all".

Dr. Vahini Reddy

Vahini Reddy has been a trainer and mentor of the program of the United Nations, Entrepreneurs for Social Change. Dr. Reddy has played the role of lead trainer and lead mentor and she became part of the wider roster of United Nations experts in the field of Youth and Education. She has been leading the development and delivery of training modules focusing on the business aspect of the social enterprise. She has also been leading planning, organization and delivery of online and in-person mentoring for students as well as for the alumni. She has been one of the most outstanding professionals, competent, extremely flexible and able to overcome the difficulties in a creative manner and always meet the challenges. Always capable of staying abreast of the most recent developments in youth education, on top of her regular tasks she has been able to anticipate the students' needs and to offer innovative ideas and valuable recommendations for improvement. Her capacity to adapt her teaching style to different audiences, whether younger or more experienced people, and her sensitivity to establish an empathic connection beyond the cultural and religious background of her interlocutors, allowed Dr. Reddy to quickly gain respect and attention, but also leverage the listening skills of the students, as well as the various stakeholders part of programs. She has been rated within the highest percentile in the evaluations provided by the students as well as the organizers.

Mr. Vidyadhar Prabhudesai

Vidyadhar Prabhudesai is currently Co founder and Director of LeadCap Ventures which works with fortune 500 companies. LeadCap Ventures is rated among top 10 data analytics companies in India by The Silicon Review Magazine, USA. He has been instrumental in developing a public private partnership model to create industry student skill development programs which are running successfully across India. He also initiated a citizen engagement tool - "Public Eye" which helps the city's traffic police to effectively manage traffic violations. In 2015, Public Eye became official app of Bangalore Traffic Police with more than 35,000 violations reported and Rs 45 lakhs worth additional penalties collected. He also pioneered the idea of social assessments and launched a platform called "Leadburg" in 2016 which enables youth to assess their skills and compare with the industry benchmark. Prabhudesai has served as a member of Global Agenda Council on Youth Unemployment during 2012-14. He was also the member of Task Force on Education For All at UNESCO. He is also adviser on Youth Unemployment at Peach Child International, UK. He was also one of the judging members for The Global Teachers Prize 2016. He was nominated as Global Shaper by World Economic Forum in 2011 and received several awards such Indira Gandhi Priyadarshini, Karmaveer Chakra and International Finance Corporation Prize on tackling the world unemployment challenge. He was listed in Who's who and Top 2000 intellectuals of the world for two years - 2013 and 2015.

Ms. Vimala Rajkumari

Vimala Rajkumari a Goldman Sach's 10,000 Women Alumni founder of Vsual Brewery believes in the quote by Ted Turner "The happiest people are those who are contributing to society" Vimala and her husband Maisnam Johnson Singh founded Vsual Brewery with the mission of Bringing Elevated Awareness through various media: Digital, Mobile and Television. In today's world where media has a very special place in our lives, Vsual Brewery would like to use this powerful medium to Educate and bring Awareness towards making this world a socially aware place through Stories that Bridge Cultural Gaps, Make Learning Fun, Educate and bring Awareness on key issues of Healthy Living, Caring for our Environment, Living a Holistic Lifestyle. Working towards this mission Vsual Brewery has produced a Kids Science TV Series, One Stop Science Shop for Da Vinci Media GmbH broadcast in 41 countries. The show is aimed at igniting curious minds through a fun learning experience. Vsual Brewery has also produced a series of videos for mycity4kids.com where experts from different fields share tips and guidelines on different aspects of parenting and help parents be Better Human Beings. Vsual Brewery takes their Mission further with their digital channel Soul I M bringing experts and inspiring stories with the aim of guiding individuals to clear the clutter from their outer life and calm their inner chaos through anything that gives them inner peace.

Mr. Vishal Jindal

Vishal Jindal is an anchor, photographer, filmmaker, entrepreneur, volunteer, motivator and engineer. He organized Photography exhibitions on gender equality to promote National Campaign "Beti Bacchao Beti Padhao" in the presence of Dr. Kamal Gupta (MLA Hisar), Mr. Daya Prakash Sinha Ji and conducted/ hosted lots of panel discussion and Talks for Women Empowerment initiative by TV Chanel Star plus & Dainik Bhaskar's Madhurima Club. He Volunteered & trained little masters in theatre for education and Anchoring with NGO Theater group for leadership and skill development and also Volunteered, managed and Hosted the Haryana International Film Festival which is considered as big initiative to Uplift the Vanishing Haryanvi cinema . After Getting inspired from the rex Karmaveer Chakra he started his own show "Tea Talks With Vishal" which is a talk show based on stories of unsung heroes and change makers .Soon he is coming up with his Big Social Campaign "Say No to Guns" to maintain Love & Peace in the society

Mr. Vivek Satya Mitram

Vivek Satya Mitram is among youngest editors of Indian TV News industry who left his successful journalism career after spending 12 years in mainstream media while working with reputed brands like PTI, Star News, India News etc in senior most capacities to start India's first ever Online Expert Advice Platform 'AdviceAdda' to help people in distress. AdviceAdda.com has helped over 18 lac people across the globe in last 2 years of operations and solved problems of people for free who do not have any access to expert help. It has helped thousands of people living in depression or going through miserable issues including chronic diseases, teenage problems, relationship issues, teenage pregnancy and suicidal tendencies. Vivek was very worried about increasing numbers of suicides in India and after realising that timely discreet expert help from a professional expert may help people sort out their personal problems which is the root cause of stress and depression in people's life he decided to change the scenario by creating a platform for millions of people to seek discreet online help from experts for free. His work has been recognised by 70+ National & International media houses including BBC, Tehelka, India Today, Business Standard, Hindustan Times, YourStory, Deccan Herald, The Pioneer, DNA, FirstPost, AajTak, Zee News, Amar Ujala, e27 etc. He has been awarded for his social enterprise venture on many platforms. He is a regular columnist and writes on Entrepreneurship & Life Skills in many national dailies on regular basis. He is also working on soon to be published a book on 'Entrepreneurship'. He is also a well known Brand/ Media Strategist and working with couple of organisations and individuals. Vivek has many more plans to explore that can add a real value to human lives and make an impact on society to bring change at grassroots level.